

Service, Awards, Events to Mark CYO Observance

In observance of National Catholic Youth Organization Week, this week, the Boston Deanery has planned a series of events to make the next seven days memorable for its thousands of members.

The fourth annual award of the Bill Mullen Trophy to Suffolk County's outstanding CYO member in the spiritual, cultural, social and athletic fields will be among the features.

The award will be presented at the CYO King and Queen Dance at the Hotel Bradford Friday.

King and queen finalists will be selected by judges from Boston newspapers and leading disc jockeys and grand winners will be chosen by popular applause.

The week's cultural program will feature radio panel discussion groups with Rev. Brother Jules, C.F.X., of Mission Church presiding.

Climax of National CYO week will be a mammoth holy hour in Mission Church, Roxbury, next Sunday at 6 a. m. Very Rev. Francis S. X. Rossiter, D.D., S.T.L., diocesan master of ceremonies and professor at St. John's Seminary, will be preacher.

Benediction will be offered by Msgr. John P. Carroll, Diocesan CYO Director, assisted by Rev. Gerard Barry of Boston South Deanery.

The Holy Hour will be followed by a social and entertainment at St. Alphonsus Hall, adjoining the church.
