

The Rev. Harold T. Cox

Rockaway Beach—A pontifical concelebrated Mass of the Resurrection was offered yesterday for the Rev. Harold T. Cox, 52, assistant pastor of St. Camillus Catholic Church here and a former assistant pastor at St. Joseph's Church, Ronkonkoma. Father Cox died, apparently of a heart attack, Friday while vacationing at Montauk. He was assigned to St. Joseph's from 1944 to 1952, subsequently served at St. Gabriel's Church, Brooklyn, and went to St. Camillus Parish in 1963. Father Cox was moderator of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women in the South Central Queens Deanery. He was born in Brooklyn and educated at St. Francis College, Brooklyn, and Immaculate Conception Seminary, Huntington, and ordained April 11, 1944.
